

General information: What should I do to keep workstations running when I'm restarting the server? Because currently client PCs get locked.

You need to disable option Lock when connection is lost - you will find it on Workstation lock page in client setup. You can also disable Lock even if there is NO connection with the server computer, but it only concerns situations when customer session is over while there is no connection with the server.

Unique solution ID: #1106

Author: Administrator

Last update: 2006-12-02 22:22