

CafeSuite: Do you have a manual or guide for the software?

Yes, first of all there is a help system available. It can be accessed by pressing F1 key or through the Contents command from the Help menu. You can also download the manual as PDF file here. Finally help system is also available online at:

<http://cafesuite.net/help/>

It's possible that the help system doesn't contain some of the newest features or settings described yet. In this case please contact us directly to get more information.
