

CyberPrinter: I have installed the program at the main CPU nicely, but in the client it shows (disconnected), even though I have entered the server IP address. What about the port number?

The client will autodetect the CyberPrinter server provided that they are both on the same network (the client broadcasts network message to locate the server). Please also make sure that you selected a local network IP address on the CyberPrinter server (and not the public IP address).

Unique solution ID: #1059

Author: Administrator

Last update: 2006-04-23 13:56